EDUCATIONAL ATTAINMENT RATES BY RACE

The chart shows the percentage of select groups in Iowa that lack a high school diploma, for populations 25 years and older.

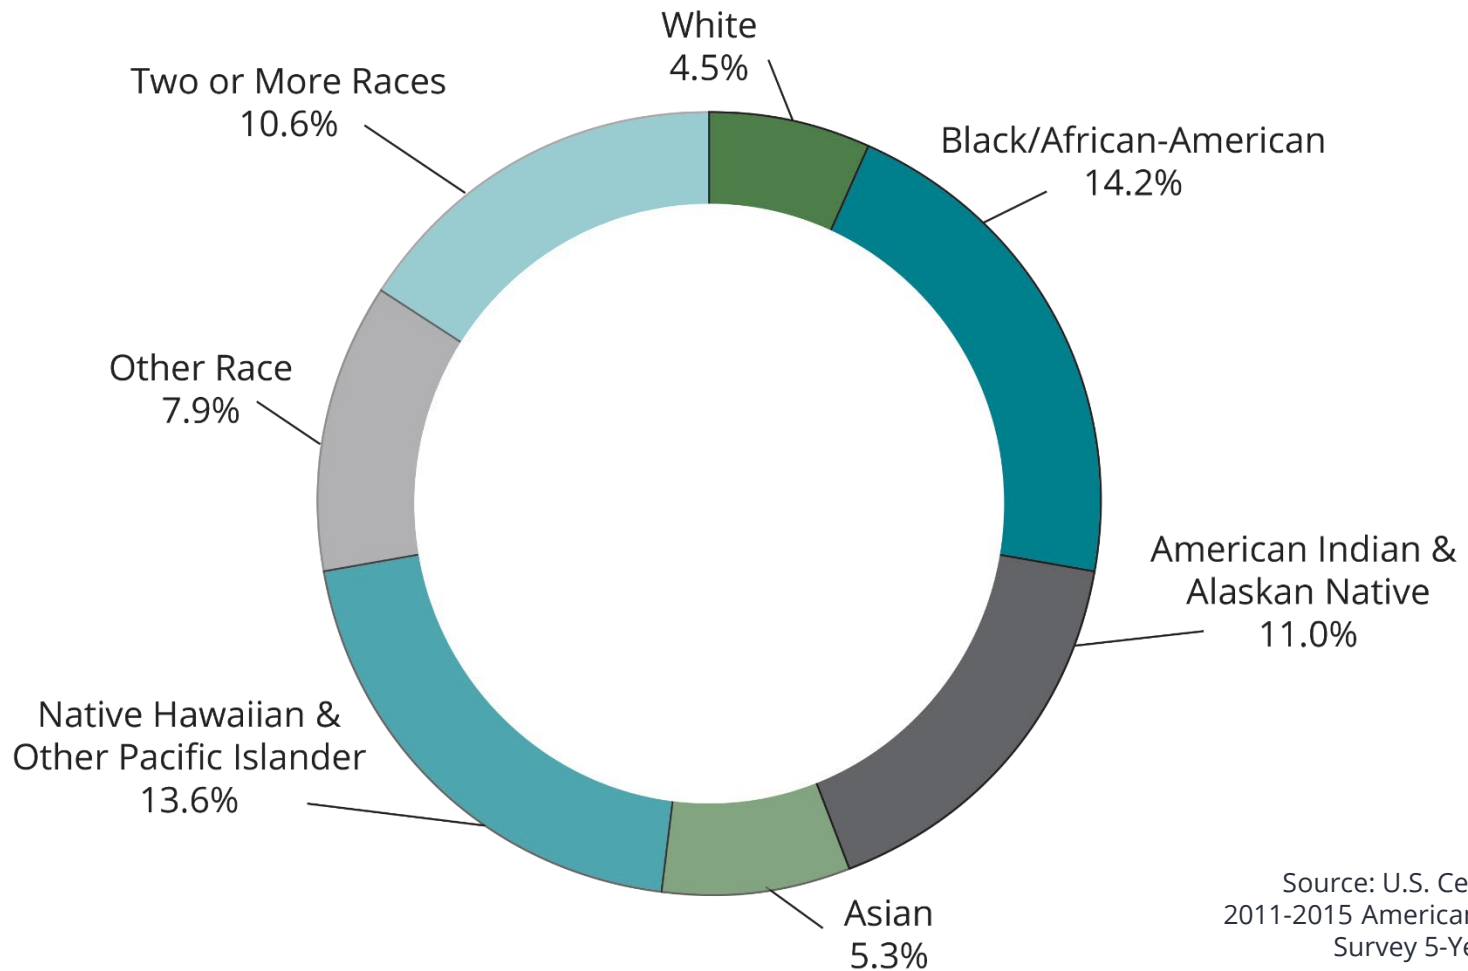

Addressing inequality in educational attainment is important because people with more education are:

- more likely to be employed
- more likely to have lower poverty rates
- less likely to rely on government assistance programs like Medicaid.

STRATEGY

Expand Work-based Learning Experiences in High-demand Careers; increase career development in middle and high school

- Quality pre-apprenticeships
- Registered apprenticeships
- Internship programs
- Leverage existing programs, such as the STEM BEST (Businesses Engaging Students and Teachers) program and Iowa (Work-Based Learning) Intermediary Networks
- Launched WBL Clearinghouse in July 19

In Iowa, Class of 2018, 37,500 seniors enrolled

91.4% graduated (34,275)

78.0% of those, intended to pursue postsecondary education leading to a credential or degree (26,735)

66.0% actually enrolled in a program within 1 year of graduation (22,920)

7,500 students had no postsecondary intent (2.3% entered active military)

3,800 students (10% dropped postsecondary plans between May and August resulting in fewer credentials earned; fewer high skilled workers; more low skilled workers; less tax revenue; opportunities lost.

GOVERNOR KIM REYNOLDS

“At its core, Future Ready Iowa recognizes that there is dignity in meaningful work, that Iowans yearn for the opportunity to better themselves, and that those opportunities exist right here in Iowa.”

“Future Ready Iowa is a powerful tool to grow family incomes, meet employer needs and strengthen communities.

The time is now to invest in Iowans and their future. Today, I’m calling on the Legislature to take the next step, to appropriate $20 million to fund the plan we put in place last session.

This investment will take Iowa to the next level. And more important, it will give more Iowans an opportunity to find a rewarding career.”
